We will pick you up at the time shown in the blue-highlighted block above.

- Dressing in layers is strongly recommended as it gets very cold on Haleakala.
- Due to unpredictable and variable weather conditions, clear viewing of the sunrise is not guaranteed.
- The high altitude may complicate health conditions and breathing difficulties. Elderly visitors, pregnant women, young children, and those with respiratory or heart conditions should consult their doctor prior to touring. Walk slowly and drink water to avoid dehydration. If you have gone scuba diving you should wait at least 72 hours before going on this tour.
- A "to go" dinner is provided. Please note any dietary restrictions at the time of booking and provide your dinner selection.
